

Where attack detection is linearly decodable

Figure 6. Per-layer validation AUROC for the linear probe, across all cached layers and both representations. Shaded bands span the seeds. The full curve is shown rather than only the best layer, because the best layer was selected on validation and is therefore a tuned quantity.